NEW DELHI: Slamming AAP government for the "drastic" shift in its stand on the Ram temple issue, BJP on Sunday said the party has stopped taking any kind of meaningful initiatives from the government and have only "applied thumb on their nose at the BJP". The party also attacked Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal for not taking any kind of initiative in minority welfare but said that the AAP government is "applying selective amnesia" on the issue of minority welfare while "applying thumb on their nose at the BJP". BJP spokesperson Sambit Patra alleged that "there is an anti-Hindu sentiment in the AAP government" and have turned "anti-Aryan". "AAP ministers repeatedly say that they are not anti-Hindu, but then how can they say that they are not anti-Hindu. They clearly stated that they don't want to allow the Ram Mandir in Ayodhya even if it is 100% guaranteed that it will be built there," he said. "How can BJP-led central government talk about development and minority welfare if the AAP government stops the construction of the temple," he asked. Taking on AAP over the so-called 'Idd-e-Millat Will not Let Us Convert' poster, he said, "Now what has happened is that the AAP government stopped taking any kind of meaningful initiative from the Modi government. They applied thumb on their nose at the BJP government. We had said that the problem is not what the poster says. It's that what the poster says is the problem. That is why we have said that the government must act against those who are responsible for the poster." Slamming the AAP-led Delhi government, Patra said, "There is an anti-Hindu sentiment in the AAP government. The faith of the Hindus has become a hindrance to them." "The
